PURPOSE

The report of the royal commission, Closer to Home, is divided into three volumes. The first is a summary designed to provide an overview of the commission's report. That volume will give the general reader an understanding of the ways in which the health care system should be restructured as medicare in British Columbia enters its second quarter century.

The second volume of Closer to Home is the main body of the report. That volume sets out the specific recommendations of the Royal Commission on Health Care and Costs. It does not contain a single list of all of the commission's recommendations; these should be read in context to avoid a misinterpretation of the commission's intentions.

Volume Three, Sources, is the bibliography for the commission's report, as well as a list of the names of the groups and individuals who made presentations to the commission. This volume also contains information on where the commission's materials and data bases are stored.

Sources for the British Columbia Royal Commission on Health Care and Costs have been compiled to help the public and researchers to access the materials which the commission used in the preparation of its report.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The assistance and support of the following people is gratefully acknowledged: Dr. Susie Stephenson, Dr. Ronald Hagler and Jim Henderson and the staff of the Medical Library Service of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of BC, Vancouver.

We would also like to acknowledge the Premier's Commission on Future Health Care for Albertans, whose materials guide provided the basis for the format of this source list.

The commission would also like to thank Blair Lockhart and William Veenstra, both of whom were Law Clerks for the BC Court of Appeal who provided the commission with various memoranda of law.

LOCATION OF MATERIAL

All the commission's records have been transferred to the custodianship of the British Columbia Archives and Records Service. Inquiries should be directed to (604) 387-1952 in Victoria, or write to the Ministry of Provincial Secretary, 1117 Wharf Street, Victoria, BC V8W 2Z2.

DESCRIPTION OF MATERIAL

Paper Files

Submissions: all of the written briefs sent to the commission.

Executive Summaries: summaries of all of the submissions sent to the commission.

Records of public hearings: in-house transcriptions of the audio tapes of all of the commission's public hearings and several forums hosted by the commission.

Newspaper clippings: photocopies of all of the articles which mention the commission.

Contract research: original research contracted for by the commission. A list of the contractors and the nature of their work follows the list of submitters in this volume.

Administrative files: general correspondence and correspondence with submitters; contract and other financial files; minutes of commission meetings; and background research papers.

Electronic and Other Files

Audio tapes: recordings of the commission's public hearings.

Data bases: complete public hearing transcripts and the submissions. This data base uses MacIntosh© hardware and requires Sonar© software to query the text. Software may be available for other operating systems.

In addition, the commission used a Pace© data base for document tracking and the maintenence of submitter information. A copy of this data base is also in archives. Wang© equipment is required to access this information.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

The main section of this volume consists of a bibliography of the relevant sources consulted by the commissioners and researchers in the preparation of the report.

The bibliography is divided into chapters which match the chapters found in volume two, The Report. The entries are listed alphabetically and, in some cases, the International Standard Book Number (ISBN), a unique number assigned to every book published, has been added for material which may be difficult to locate.

The format used in the bibliography is the Vancouver Style, developed by the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors. The Committee, composed of editors from major biomedical journals published in English, first met in Vancouver in 1978. They adopted uniform requirements for items submitted to their journals. While their bibliographic format was adhered to whenever possible, other styles were also consulted.

As an aid to locating elusive material, an address is provided for the items marked with an asterisk. A key to abbreviations follows the bibliography.

CONTRACT RESEARCH

All contract researchers had full access to the submissions to the commission and incorporated the subjects and issues raised into their analyses.

Geoffrey M. Anderson
"Quality Assurance and Utilization Management"
- summarized the results of literature review on utilization management and conducted a survey of institutions in BC to determine the extent to which Utilization Management techniques were being applied in the province.

Morris L. Barer (University of British Columbia)
"Analysis of Medical Services Utilization, Hospital Utilization by Region, Physician Reimbursement and Bed-Blockers"
- provided computer support and analysis as requested by commission staff pertaining to physician utilization patterns and distribution throughout BC.

Lillian Bayne
"Tertiary Care Services Within a Regionalized Health Service Delivery System"
- provided an analysis of the tertiary care delivery system in BC and reviewed several options to organizing tertiary care in the province, including the advantages and disadvantages of different organizational options.

Barbara A. Brown
"Home Care"
- set out issues and proposed recommendations in the area of home care. Discussed informal and formal caregivers including medical personnel and home care workers or homemakers.

Doris Bruce
"Report on Services to Disabled Children and Adults in British Columbia"
- surveyed available resources and reviewed service needs for persons with physical handicaps, and reviewed available literature.

James Cutt (P.A. Research Consultants Ltd.)
"A Framework of Management Information on the Effectiveness of Institutional Services"
- examined the utility of the Canadian Comprehensive Auditing Foundation's Effectivness model in defining the information needed to measure institutional effectiveness in BC.

Susan J. French
"Immigration and Multicultural Health, 1991 - 2000"
- analyzed issues related to legislation, demographics, services and providers.

Health Risk Management of Canada Ltd.
"Hospital Utilization in BC"
- provided a detailed analysis comparing BC utilization rates with utilization patterns in other jurisdictions and against set standards. The analysis is extensive and is available in 10 binders. Comparisons at the level of the province, and between selected teaching and non-teaching institutions, were provided at the request of the commission.

Clyde Hertzman
"Developing Health Status Indicators from Routinely Collected Data"
- model health status indicators were created using information from birth and death files.

Arminee Kazanjian
